Architecture

Deep Learning Model

The Deep learning model use case architecture is defining how the deep learning model is working from starting to end and what are the success and failure scenarios.

Input Output Flow of Project

This input output flow will define the project's end to end flow with all success and failure cases.